

Summary of Current Course Content Knowledge

Academic engagement through active participation in instructional activities related to the course objectives is paramount to your success in this course and future courses. Through interaction with your instructor and classmates, you will explore the course material and be provided with the best opportunity for objective and competency mastery. To begin this class, review the course objectives for each Topic, and then answer the following questions as this will help guide your instructor for course instruction.

1. Which weekly objectives do you have prior knowledge of and to what extent?

I feel I have intermediate knowledge of all course content. For instance, the objective on the importance of nursing research is quite familiar to me. I have interacted with different evidence-based studies in nursing during my education and practice. So, I believe I will not have much difficulty navigating the class. However, my son struggles with reading due to his Auditory Processing Disorder, which means I also have to dedicate more resources to my studies, in as much as I pay attention to his development.

2. Which weekly objectives do you have no prior knowledge of?

Again, I feel I have intermediate knowledge of all course objectives. I have noticed that topic two will allow us to compare different types of qualitative designs. I am looking forward to this since I love research. It is good that I will also learn the ethics of conducting research studies, be they quantitative or qualitative.

3. What course-related topics would you like to discuss with your instructor and classmates? What questions or concerns do you have about this course?

I feel I can benefit from all the course content presented. I will definitely learn new stuff and will enjoy the latest content. I look forward to incorporating what I learn from this class into my teaching and personal life.
